

THE EVENING BULLETIN

MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1855.

CONGRESS assembled to-day.

WHEN winter comes the mud will freeze up, then it's a comfort.—Harrisburg, Pa.
Rather cold comfort, though.

ACCORDING to the last Assessor's books there are, in this county, 3,016 town lots given in for taxation. Their assessed value is $1,447,665.

It is said that Kentucky makes more Bourbon whisky, and at the same time polls a larger Prohibition vote than any State in the union.

By his letter to Speaker Carlile, Samuel J. Tilden shows very plainly that he still takes an active interest in the public welfare of his country. The Sage of Grammercy is "still in the ring," although he is far advanced in years.

GERMANY, it is said, is thinking of expelling some of the Americans who are now making that country their home. That's right. If an American can't be satisfied with this glorious country, he shouldn't be given any rest elsewhere.

MARSHAL W. T. FLYNN, of Frankfort, has been appointed a Deputy U. S. Marshal for this district. He qualified last week and has entered upon the discharge of his duties. He is one of the substantial business men of Frankfort and the Yocoman, of that city, says the appointment is an excellent one.

THE war between Servia and Bulgaria will now go on with greater vigor than ever. The trees between these powers was abruptly brought to a close by the Bulgarians when they discovered that the Servians had taken advantage of it, and were fortifying their cities and strengthening their defenses.

THE statement is made that Burchard, after a close investigation of Blaine's character, has come to the conclusion that the Maine statesman is bad (?) men. It is rather late for Burchard to make this discovery, but "better late than never." And, then, too, how consoling it must be to Burchard's conscience. He can now go to his grave with the comforting thought that he rendered his country good service, when he uttered his "Kum, Romaniun and Rebellion."

"If the Republican Senators desire to do so, they will elect a Senator to succeed Senator Hendricks as President of the Senate. They will do so, because they are the people—based on the question, and I believe, have a majority in favor of the election of a Democrat."—Levy, less than a fourth of the time has elapsed. The Republicans have not yet decided their minds on the subject. If the question of choosing Mr. Hayes as successor to Mr. Hendricks is left open, there is no doubt that a Democrat would be selected. Why, then, if, say, the 80th Congress is re-elected, the pro-slavery party will be in a position of a democratic. Besides, it is just as likely that a more moderate and conciliatory man will be chosen.—U. S. Tribune (Pa.) Pat.

This is all right, brother Patriot, but it's the most unlikely thing in all the world to happen. Don't imagine for a moment that your advice will be considered. As has been said before, the Republicans generally know a good thing when they see it and they rarely ever fail to go "for all that's in sight." Of course nothing would be more pleasing to the Democratic party than to hear of the election of some one of its distinguished Senators as President pro tempore of the Senate. It would be gratifying to the people of the country, too, we believe, at least to those who are not bigoted in their views. More than all it would create a friendly feeling that would undoubtedly result in much good.

THE Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot in speaking of the election of a Patriot pro tempore of the Senate who will now be, necessarily, acting Vice President of the country says:

"There are three men in the Senate, neither of whom can be chosen to this important office without insulting public sentiment. These are the three named. John A. Logan was defeated by the people only a year ago, and, therefore, should not be considered; John Sherman was one of the conspirators that corrupted the returns of the vote of Louisiana after the election of 1876, and George F. Edwards was a member of the Electoral Commission that confirmed the operations of John Sherman's conspiracy and gave them force.

It is safe to say that to-day ninety per cent of the people know that Tilden and Hendricks were counted out of the offices of President and Vice-President by the employment of fraud and perfidy. To elevate one of the conspirators or a man who abetted the conspiracy would be an insult to the conscience of all those who believe the truth. John A. Logan still flaunts the bloody shirt, and more than ninety percent of the people know that he insults the memory of an outraged patriot by doing so. To let him hang on his head would be to insult this vast majority of the people.

Democrats have little concern as to whom among the progressive and reputable Republicans is chosen to fill the chair of the Senate. But they do and will protest against Logan, Sherman or Edwards. John Hippie Mitchell or William Mahone would be just as acceptable as these men."

CORRUPTION TRIUMPHS.

THAT IS, ACCORDING TO THE ST. JAMES GAZETTE.

Senor Ruiz Zorilla Soon to Arrive in Spain, When a Revolution is Expected to Occur—His Friend's Advice—Two Tales—Dark and Glomy—News.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The course of opinion among trained observers in London is that there will be another general election within a year. The Tories have almost abandoned hope of retaining office. Most of their efforts are directed toward vilifying their opponents. The St. James Gazette says that corruption has triumphed; that ample means for the debauchery of the new electorate were provided by the Radicals, and that it is plainly evident that had it been necessary Gladstone would have joined the English Jacobins.

It is stated in Madrid that Senator Ruiz Zorilla, the Republican agitator over whom a sentence is pending in Spain, will arrive in England on Saturday next, having been where he has recently taken refuge. Simultaneously with his arrival an outbreak of revolution is expected to occur at Cadiz. It is known that Senator Ruiz Zorilla, lately returned from America, has gone to Paris to his interests in Spain, and it is believed that considerable quantities of arms and munitions have been smuggled across the frontier.

Zorilla probably made many arrangements until after the announcement of Queen Christina. If the posthumous child of King Alfonso is a boy, he will have no pretense for seeking to overturn the present system, and the world will sit back and have a cause to quarrel as when he waged war against Queen Isabella.

The friends of royalism, from Madrid, are now collected before transmission, give a rosato view of the situation. Private advice by mail, tell very different tales. They assert that the whole country is in a state of ferment and that the royalists are to be maintained for a revolution. The royal family is already bickering. Ex Queen Isabella wants a timer in the pie. She disavows any wish to be the regent, because she knows that she is not popular. Queen Christina, however, wants to control Queen Christina during the latter's long regency. Christina has many other daughters-in-law, is subordinate and she declares that reverence for her husband's memory, demands that she shall maintain his children's rights.

THE Smallest Demand.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—James Stephens, the former Fenian leader, has issued a manifesto in which he expresses his hearty and entire concurrence in the Patriotic Offer of the Irish people, and also the people—based on the question, and I believe, have a majority in favor of the election of a Democrat.

AN OPEN LETTER

In Which all Ladies are Deeply Interested.

READ IT.

BELLAIRE, Ga., November 6, 1854.

Gentlemen:
I have been using your wonderful remedy, "Dr. Bradfield's Female Regulator," in my family for a long time, and I want to say to the suffering ones of my sex that there never was anything to equal it. Would to God that every afflicted woman in our land knew of its wonderful virtues and curative powers as I do. I have used a great deal of it since the birth of my last child, about a year and a half ago, and I do think had it not been for this valuable medicine, I would have been but thanks to a kind Providence, I was directed to its use, and my life and health have been spared me. If my means would admit of it, I would never be without it in my house.

BED-RIDDEN FOR LIFE

I have recommended it to a number of my friends, and without exception they have all been wonderfully relieved and cured. I give the endorsement without solicitation and freely, for the benefit of the suffering ones of my sex. Very respectfully,

MRS. ANNA RAMP.

Metal Poison.

I am a copper-smith by trade, and during a series of years my arms (being bare when at work) became sore and inflamed from the use of metal poison. Having a sore inclination from my youth, the small particles of copper oxide, which I used to eat, caused me to become ill. The poison was conveyed into my blood, and my whole system became infected. I was treated with calomel, Tartaric acid, Mercury and Iodine poultices. Salivation followed, and my teeth were loosened, and my digestive organs deranged, and I have been helpless in bed for over a year with incurable boils, carbuncles, and ulcers, and I have lost the use of my arms and legs and became helpless as an infant.

My sufferings were intense that it was impossible for me to rest. The doctors advised me to take a strong emetic, but I could not bear it. A friend indeed urged me to try tartaric acid, and I did so, and was greatly relieved. Others discouraged me, but I sought a few hours' rest, and have now taken two dozen doses of tartaric acid. The first dose of tartaric acid brought the poison to the surface and I broke out in a violent eruption, but it soon disappeared and my skin cleared off. My knees, which had become so large and swollen, are now reduced to their natural size, the rest of my body is well and I am able to walk again and can use them without pain. My arms and hands are all right again and can use them without pain. I have now got a good appetite again, and have two ulcers on my wrists, which are healing rapidly. I have now got a good appetite again, and have two ulcers on my wrists, which are healing rapidly. This mustard oil-bringing me out of the affliction of my disease, and I am now perfectly well and able to work again. I bring this to your notice, that you may be enabled to express my appreciation of its virtues and the gratitude I feel for it. Ever yours,

Malaria Poison.

The drought in Southwest Georgia last spring dried up the wells, and we were compelled to use water from the creek on the property, which was very impure and unwholesome, with chills and fever. I carried with me several bottles of Swift's Specific and as a result of its use I was soon well again. I am as well as ever. My arms and hands are all right again and can use them without pain. My appetite is good again and I have two ulcers on my wrists, which are healing rapidly. This mustard oil-bringing me out of the affliction of my disease, and I am now perfectly well and able to work again. We have had malaria in our family as an antidote for malaria poison we have never known it to fail in a single instance.

A LOG-BARN belonging to James Mickey of the Lewisburg precinct was destroyed by fire late Friday night between 8 and 9 o'clock. We have not been able to learn the cause of the fire nor the amount of the damage.

Our County Assessor's books show that there were in this county when the last assessment was made, 5,060 horses. They were assessed at $197,605. The number of mules given in to the Assessor was 716, valued at $39,700; the number of sheep 7,623, assessed value $12 251.

Taxes are 143,353 acres of land assessed for taxation in this county, the valuation of which is $4,621,917, according to the last assessor's books. If this land is given in at about two-fifths of what it would sell for in the market, as is generally the case, it would make its actual valuation about $11,554,972.

Fire.

The residence of Mr. Robert Melford, near this city was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The flames were discovered between 4 and 5 o'clock, and as the wind was blowing briskly at the time the building was soon destroyed. Some of Mr. Melford's family barely escaped with their lives, so speedily did the flames spread. The fire is supposed to have originated in a defective fuse. Damage $1,000. Insurance $500.

"Ah, There I"

"Hello, Saltee," said George Thomas on Court street yesterday, "I've got a conundrum. What's the difference between this street and the most fashionably-tinted silk dress?"

"Give it up," said Clarence.

"One is all 'ashes of roses' and the other is all 'rows of ashes'—and—then the cellar door gave way and George disappeared. Clarence is still in a critical condition."

A Sleepy Sermon.

The poor person is overworked, underpaid and underfed. His blood is thin. His stomach is ailing. His liver is all wrong, and of course his digestion is poor. Is it any wonder he puts his congregation almost to sleep by giving out the text? Brown's Iron Bitters will repair his broken down system and make him a new man. Rev. J. S. White of Rockhill, S. C., writes, "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for general debility. It has restored me to health and vigor." Many other clergymen give similar testimony. The public is invited.

What Baptists are Doing.

"Tontate" in his letter to the New York Examiner says: "The Baptists of Mayville are making a brave attempt to move forward. Pastor R. B. Garrett pleases everybody with his preaching, and is extremely popular with a new and better located house of worship. The rule is that the pastor leaves when a new house of worship is built, so the brother had better look out. A new house in Mayville, and in the near future too, is an imperative necessity. Something over half the needed amount is in sight, and it is going to take hard work to get the rest. I found everybody very free in saying what everybody else ought to give, but often the individual brother exhibited some embarrassment when asked to give an amount like that he freely assigned to others of equal ability. There is about as much human nature to the square mile in Mayville as in other places. The people were very kind to the visiting brother, who found a charming home with Dr. Strode, a leading physician in the State, his wife and their two bright and promising sons. The meeting is to be continued by Rev. Fred D. Hale of Louisville, and the financial part will be pressed by Rev. W. P. Harvey of Harrisburg. There are few fine communities than that at Mayville, and our church there contains some first-rate material."

The Best of The Kind.

Howorth's Hibernian and Comedy Company always gives an excellent entertainment. It is an old company and has a well established reputation. It appears here-to-morrow night. The Galena, (Ill.) Gazette in speaking of it has the following:

To say that the audience were "pleased" with the performances of the last meeting at Turner Hall by Howorth's Hibernians and Comedy Company, is certainly a mild way of expressing the general opinion of the end result of the performance. Delighted were the spectators with the variety of acts, and the skillful execution of the same. The meeting was on even terms, as we left the hall.
